not only the members but also to the citizens, and have some control over how that is initially presented. Also, he has included a bill that I introduced this year, LB 11...LB 1361, which was the last bill introduced this year, that has not come on too many radar screens, it was indefinitely postponed, but, in fact, incorporates some of the ideas that he has. With that, Mr. President, I will yield the balance of my time to Senator Brashear.

SENATOR WEHRBEIN: Thank you. Senator Brashear.

SENATOR BRASHEAR: Thank you, Mr. Chairman, members of the body. Thank you, Senator Maurstad, I appreciate it. The...I'd like to direct your attention to the very yellow exhibit, which attempts to quantify for you, in a family oriented way, the tax relief that we're talking about in this package, if it were to be pulled, worked up and made possible. And at some point when I'm speaking, I will try and elaborate on that. But I would like to point out that we used a very amateur analysis of the savings which could be made in sales tax. We simply took the total sales tax paid, and divided it by 1.6 million people and came to $117 per person and utilized that figure. Each and every member of the body knows that as the income increases there would be an increased payment of sales tax, so the relief...I think I can accurately represent that the relief in sales tax that is demonstrated by this exhibit is, in fact, absolutely minimal. It has been pointed out earlier that this is progressive. We are not destroying but possibly enhancing the concept of progressivity. And to further...I pick up on the jet fuel concept I talked about just prior. I'd like to point out that by a fairly simple calculation a family of, if I can find it, a family of four which saved $872, based on the yellow exhibit, would have to spend, please note this, at a 4 percent rate, that family of four would have to go out and buy $21,800 in services at 4 percent to spend all the tax relief that the plan, in its illustrative form, provides. I think you would agree that for a family with a 50,000 dollar income to go buy $21,800 in services is highly unlikely. If you study the services which we are including, 16 to generate, to create the broadened tax base and generate the additional revenue, for...

SENATOR WEHRBEIN: One minute.
